The Governor's Office of Planning and Budget provides several resources for finding and understanding available state and federal funding opportunities.

The Utah Funding Opportunities Portal connects users to state & federal water, roads, energy, and other funding opportunities.

This comprehensive resource is designed to support state agencies, local governments, tribal nations, and other stakeholders as they navigate infrastructure initiatives. A key feature of the portal is the newly adopted Grants Playbook

This newsletter provides information and updates about Utah's response to federal grant opportunities, including the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA), the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), and the CHIPS and Science Act (CHIPS). The resources provided here are intended to be tools for all Utah communities, decision makers, agencies, and stakeholders to stay up to date on how Utah is taking advantage of this historic opportunity to invest in our state.

Local Administrative Advisor (LAA)

During the 2023 Utah General Legislative Session, the Utah State Legislature funded, and Governor Cox approved the Local Administrative Advisor (LAA) Program. The LAA Program provides administrative support to over 140 qualifying local governments in Utah that have little to no administrative staff. The program elevates the capabilities of qualifying local governments and fosters efficient and effective governance. Assistance is available statewide with resources and staff based centrally at ULCT and regionally at the seven Associations of Government (AOGs).
